

First Check Presented in Advance Gifts

Don't Wait Until Last Minute, Plea of Bennett Today

First contribution to the Advance Gifts Campaign of the Community Chest drive for funds was made by the Citizens National Trust and Savings Bank yesterday.

Donald E. Goundry, assistant manager of the local banking institution, handed a sizeable check to Frank Bennett, chairman of the Community Chest campaign for the year of 1955-56.

THIS CONTRIBUTION was immediately followed by another good sized donation when Herman Doepper, 1629 Verbena Drive, in passing the headquarters of the Chest at 101 South Palm Canyon Drive, walked in and also handed Bennett a check.

"Please don't wait until the last minute to make your annual contribution to the Chest," was the appeal voiced by the campaign chairman.

He added that the Advance Gift donations are the backbone of the entire campaign and urged that persons send in their donations as soon as possible.

"OUR GOAL IS $50,000 in the current campaign. The actual door-to-door solicitations will not start until after January 1, but in order to determine just how much the Chest will need at that time it is necessary that we first determine the amount of the Advance Gift donations," Bennett pointed out.

He also added that all of the money donated goes directly into the coffers of the Chest.

"No worker is paid. All of the efforts of the people who are working in this campaign are entirely voluntary," Bennett said.

A LIST OF THE officers of the Community Chest was released by Bennett and they include the following:

David Margolis, president; Howard Morris, vice president; Frank Bennett, campaign chairman; Mrs. J. C. Sanders, secretary; and Herbert Samson, treasurer.

Directors this year include: Mrs. L. S. Anderson, Val Blatz, Mrs. Ted Charlton, Jacques Crommelin, Mrs. Jack Freeman, Robert A. Hillery, Mrs. Maurice L. Hoerner Jr., Dr. J. L. Kaplan, F. Thomas Kieley, Mrs. Joseph Lukowski, Stanley A. Rosin, Mrs. Arnold Rumwell, Oscar D. Stern and George O. Wheeler.

IN ADDITION THERE is a long list of both year around and winter residents who have volunteered to work for the Community Chest. They include:

Mrs. Melba Bennett, Mayor Florian Boyd, Zeddie Bunker, A. Ronald Buiton, John A. Connors, Dr. W. H. Elliott Jr., Charles Farrell, Louis Golan, Harold J. and Milton A. Hicks, Homer Hilton, Andrea Leeds Howard, Fred G. Ingram, Oliver B. Jaynes, Asher Levy, Mrs. John F. Luccarelli, Mrs. A. J. Marcuse, Pearl M. McManus, Zachary Pitts, Mrs. B. H. Pollak, Florence P. Raley, Al Rose, B. F. Shearer, Lester N. Selig, Lloyd Simon, William H. Smith, W. C. Tackett, Monte Warshawer, Henry Weinberger and Mrs. Helen Staley.

"Let us all remember as the Yuletide of good cheer rolls across this desert not to forget the need of the various local agencies which are supported by funds collected by the Community Chest," pleaded Bennett.

Confession of Killer Under Study Today

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A Cleveland, Ohio, detective was scheduled to arrive here today to question Harvey Lee Rush, 44, a transient who claimed he killed a girl in Cleveland several years ago.

A picture of Beverly Potts, 12, the victim, was shown to Rush, but he could not identify her. Police said Rush's story had discrepancies.

RED MOUNTAIN

A waitress here at The Owl Cafe tells me her boy friend has one of the most profitable ranches in the west. It is the Hat Ranch at Mojave. He's discovered that a six-foot woven wire-fence south of the depot, would net him ten to twenty hats a day, depending on the wind.

She's got another boy friend, a miner over on Mesquite Flat. He came all the way in from his mine just to report his cat Calico Kate was a mother for the 156th time.

The wildest thing in the Wild West is a mother burro, if her baby's safety is at stake.

Initial Building to be Started at Cameron Center

Rough grading is complete, and footing work and form setting start tomorrow on Cameron Center's initial building, Scorpio's Restaurant, at Palm Canyon Drive and Mesquite.

Construction of the $250,000 Scorpio's is under the supervision of its designer and architect, William F. Cody, the man famed in Palm Springs for structures whose designs are integral with desert life and living.

IT IS THE FIRST of a group of shops and commercial buildings within a 13-acre area which will include, according to plans to date, a super market, a major apparel shop, a theater, and medical and dental offices, among others.

Within the large restaurant a few shops will sell various wares. One of the planned shops will carry foods, another gifts.

Designed to maintain round-the-clock operation in the dining room and coffee shop, the restaurant will incorporate a number of features which should please Villagers. It will serve food at reachable prices since food will be its specialty, and the service of good meals its prime function.

PARKING AND ZONING were prime considerations in the nucleus plan of Scorpio's, when George Cameron Jr. and Cody huddled to first talk of it.

It will have parking facilities commensurate to its size, and more, because it will be situated on such a large parcel of land that other buildings have been situated far enough apart so as to leave plenty of potential parking space.

Bids by subcontractors have been submitted to Cody through Scorpio's general construction foreman, M. F. Stoddard. According to Ray Corliss, manager of Cameron Center as an over-all project, Scorpio's should be available for tenancy in June, 1956.

THE MOTIF OF THE restaurant will be zodiacal, hence the name.

Corliss said no over-all completion date has been set, even on a tentative basis, and added that he felt the biggest step toward completion was taken last Tuesday when George Cameron and his friend, Lily Pons, ceremoniously withdrew the first spadeful of ground, signifying actual work commencement.

The long period of drawing board planning is now over, and the only time users from now on will be construction hours and on-the-spot planning.

Palm Springs Civic Leader is Candidate for Congress

Herman Reich, well known Palm Springs civic leader, today announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for Congress, to fill the 29th district post being vacated by John Phillips after his current term expires next year.

Reich is the second candidate for the Republican nomination, with one announced campaigner for the Democratic nod.

A NATIVE OF California, Reich, 51, was born in Los Angeles and raised in southern California. He attended public schools in San Bernardino from kindergarten through high school.

He entered the U. S. Naval Academy in June of 1922, being appointed after competitive examination held in Riverside, and was graduated in June of 1926 as a commissioned ensign. After serving at sea for four years, he resigned from the regular Navy as a lieutenant (j. g.) in August of 1930.

REICH ENTERED the Naval Reserve in August of 1930, and has served continuously in the Reserve through the years. During World War II, he returned to active duty from October of 1940 to March of 1946, commanding four different Navy ships during that time. During the last two years of the war he was commander of Escort Division 61 in the Pacific. Among combat decorations received during that time are the Bronze Star Medal with Combat "V" and the Navy Unit Commendation Medal.

At the present time Reich is serving the Navy one night each week as the director of the Naval Reserve Officer's School at Chaffey college, Ontario, which activity is responsible for officer training in San Bernardino, Riverside and parts of Orange and Los Angeles counties. He has held the rank of captain in the U. S. Naval Reserve since March 10, 1945.

AFTER LEAVING the regular Navy in 1930, he worked in both the wholesale and retail furniture industry in southern California for 10 years. During that time he also took post-graduate college work as follows: Southwestern university, one year, law, USC, two years, education, qualifying for a general secondary teaching credential in California.

Suspect Nabbed for Probe Into Burglary Case

A 50-year-old Mira Monte carter was booked on a charge of suspicion of burglary this morning after he was stopped while driving away from a liquor store in which the glass door was shattered moments before.

The suspect, Archie Bird, of Highway 65, Mira Monte, was booked at 1:45 a.m. today. Officers Gene Holmes and Ray Youngberg, were on routine patrol on Palm Canyon Drive when they saw two men standing in an all-night gas station, looking toward Indian Avenue along Amado Road.

THE OFFICERS TURNED onto Amado and saw a coupe parked in front of a liquor store in the middle of the south side of the block. The car's lights were burning. They saw that the front door of the liquor store had been smashed, and as they pulled in to check, the coupe pulled slowly away from the curb.

Desert Area Opinion Split on Ore Plant

County Supervisors Indicate They Will Approve Project

By FRED WEIGEL

Riverside County Board of Supervisors, meeting in Desert Hot Springs last night, indicated that the proposed ore reduction plant in Thousand Palms was "no threat to this area" and that they would approve the construction.

One of the most controversial and argumentative issues to arise within the Desert Empire, concerning the construction of the proposed ore reduction plant in Thousand Palms, is coming out in full force today.

CHAMBERS of Commerce in communities surrounding Thousand Palms have all expressed their views on the question which will come up before supervisors December 27 at 10 a.m.

The two incorporated towns in the Coachella Valley which are concerned with the construction of the ore plant, Indio and Palm Springs, took opposite sides in the issue, with Palm Springs taking the lead in opposition and Indio, in a blast at Palm Springs, voting their approval of the project.

Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce sent letters to the Chambers within the Valley asking their support in opposition to the plant.

Desert Hot Springs Chamber held a lengthy discussion on the proposal last night and ended up by taking no action on the issue.

CATHEDRAL CITY after discussing the issue at length, tabled it and took no action, which to many is an indication of support for the plant.

Thousand Palms voted unanimously for the plant.

Rancho Mirage filed a resolution opposing it.

La Quinta, last night, in support of the letter from Palm Springs, said that "the Coachella Valley is becoming an important recreational and residential area largely based upon the clarity, purity, and salubrious quality of the desert air," filed a resolution in opposition to the ore reduction plant.

Palm Desert Chamber of Commerce met last night and voted in favor of the issue.

RIVERSIDE COUNTY Planning Commission approved the construction of the plant (with some restrictions) and recommended its approval to supervisors.

Owners of the plant, Clifford James and Mike Dunn, have previously replied to critics that the operation of the plant will result in no pollution to the air or water in this area. Gold, uranium and tungsten reduction operation is done with the use of water which prevents dust, and the water is salvaged and used over and over again.

Russ Revival of Cold War Under Study

Dulles in Paris to Meet British, French Leaders

By K. C. THALER

United Press Staff Correspondent

PARIS (AP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles arrived here today to join in a sweeping review of Western defense policy to meet the Soviet revival of the cold war.

Dulles' plane landed at the Evreux-Fauville American Air Base 65 miles west of Paris. He landed at the American base because a strike of ground personnel has paralyzed France's main air fields.

American officials at first said Dulles landed earlier but it turned out the plane was carrying Treasury Secretary George Humphrey and Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson.

DULLES WAS ONE of the first leaders of NATO's top-level ministerial council to arrive for the meeting to study the suddenly revived cold war.

All 14 foreign ministers will have with them their defense and finance ministers or deputies for the critical session which opens here tomorrow.

The meeting is the first by the Atlantic alliance nations since Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov blew away the "Geneva spirit" with a refusal to consider Western proposals for the reunification of Germany through free elections. It also marks the first time that West Germany took her full part in the defense planning of the West.

OUTSIDE of the conference hall, Dulles plans to meet with British Foreign Secretary Harold MacMillan and French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay to discuss matters of mutual concern, including the explosive situation in the Middle East.

The Atlantic council meeting climaxed a weeklong series of conferences among the Western nations, including a meeting of the Council of Europe and a session of the Western European Union.

Thursday the foreign, defense and finance ministers of the 15 member nations of NATO will begin their annual review meeting to set the defense goals for the coming year.

INFORMED SOURCES said a report of the military experts will warn the NATO ministers that Russia is stronger than ever and that the West should push ahead quickly with the atomic streamlining of their defense forces—approved last year.

The Atlantic council will consider plans calling for strengthening of NATO's military setup, for creation of a Europe-wide radar warning system and for converting the alliance into a political as well as military shield.

SOME WOULD SAY NICE WORK IF YOU CAN GET IT

CHICAGO (AP)—Three graduate psychology students at Northwestern University will make alcoholic guinea pigs of themselves Tuesday for the sake of science and $25 each.

One will drink eight shots of bonded bourbon, the second six shots of the same, and the third two glasses of beer.

They will then undergo tests to see how well they carry their liquor.

U.S. to Give Surplus Food as Yule Gift

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government announced today it will give thousands of tons of surplus grains and other foods to relief agencies to feed the hungry in other lands.

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson, announcing the action, called it an "appropriate" step for the nation to take in this period between Thanksgiving and Christmas. Wheat, flour, corn meal, rice, dried beans, dairy products and cottonseed oil will be included.

Church leaders, who had strongly urged the "share our surplus" move, called it "the answer to our prayer."

The shipments will start moving abroad about Jan. 1.

Although the foods will be supplied free and shipped overseas by the government, relief agencies must raise funds from private contributions to handle the cost of distribution overseas.

Benson set no limit on the amount of surplus foods to be provided by the government. He said the amount shipped will depend entirely on how much the relief agencies ask, which in turn will depend on how much money they can raise from public contributions to cover their overseas distribution expenses.

Since these expenses represent a comparatively small part of the over-all cost, church leaders estimated that each dollar of private contributions will make it possible to deliver about $20 worth of food to needy families abroad.

Rams Sign When Auto Brakes Fail

Nick M. Louis, of 2070 Via Norte, was traveling east on Chino Drive toward Palm Canyon Drive yesterday when the brakes of his car failed to respond.

Louis swerved his car toward the curb rather than run out into the intersection, and as a result, struck a stop sign. He was not injured.

All Villagers Urged to Take Part in Plans

City Manager Says Council Anxious for Public Views

Informal public hearing on the proposed $3,105,000 bond issue will be held by city council at 8 p.m., tonight, with all Villagers urged to attend.

"We want the opinions of as many voters as possible before going into the final phases of the bond issue," City Manager R. W. Peterson said, as he asked that all interested persons attend the hearing and express their opinions.

A BRIEF RUN-DOWN on each proposal in the bond issues will be given by Peterson, prior to council asking for comments from those present.

There is a possibility of the bond issue being increased to $3,305,000 as the Citizens Committee in charge of the bond issue promotion has recommended that $200,000 be added to the previously mentioned sum of $750,000 for acquisition of land, and construction of municipal golf course facilities. Frank Bennett is chairman of the citizens group.

OTHER ITEMS WHICH are scheduled for discussion are:

Sewerage system expansion, $1,500,000; airport land acquisition, $400,000; Tachevah flood control storm drains, $100,000; street lights on Indian Avenue from Ramon to Tachevah Drive, $75,000; palm trees and lights on Palm Canyon Drive from Ramon south to Indian Trail, $80,000; DeMuth Park land acquisition, $200,000.

Two other items which are expected to be brought up by the audience are: Construction of McCallum Way, $200,000, and the inauguration of a pension system for city employees, including police and fire departments.

PETERSON POINTED out that a decision will not be reached on any item at this meeting, with January 11 set as the date for this action.

The bond issue is tentatively set for the middle of February, with voters having till December 22 to register in order to be eligible to vote.

The Weather

Desert area forecast—Mostly sunny today and Thursday, with variable high cloudiness today, increasing Thursday. Little temperature change, with highs today 55-65 in upper valleys and 68-72 in lower valleys.

PRESS STOPPERS

OAKLAND UP — A San Pablo grocer testified today that on the day Stephanie Bryan disappeared from Berkeley he saw her with two men, neither of whom was Burton Abbott. The grocer, Charles F. Murda, 55, was called by the defense and positively identified the slain Stephanie's picture as that of the "worried looking" girl he saw April 28 at his store on the main highway.

LONDON UP — Hugh Gaitskell won the leadership of the Labor party tonight in a vote that represented a resounding defeat for American-hating leftist leader Aneurin Bevan.

LOS ANGELES UP — A union official said today a strike by 850 AFL Brotherhood of Railway clerks against Western Air Lines has been called for Friday at 6 a.m. Station and office personnel, including reservation and ticket clerks and baggage room employees, would be effected.

LOS ANGELES UP — Former actress Barbara Payton pleaded guilty today to cashing a worthless $18.54 check at a Hollywood market. The former wife of actor Franchot Tone was ordered to appear for sentencing or probation December 27.

CAMERON'S CENTER'S FIRST STRUCTURE, Scorpio's Restaurant, is the $250,000 forerunner of a city-within-a-city-like business district which is scheduled to include a super-market, a major apparel shop, a theater, and a medical-dental office group costing $5,000,000 and spreading over 12 acres. The restaurant will not feature a bar, but specialize in fine food at "honest" prices. A 24-hour-a-day dining room and coffee shop is planned.

President Follows Doctor's Advice, Takes it Easy Today

By MERRIMAN SMITH
United Press White House Writer
GETTYSBURG, Pa. — President Eisenhower followed his doctors' orders today and took it easy.

He planned to stay away from his Gettysburg office and to see no callers — even members of his staff — if at all possible.

The President flew to his Gettysburg farm Tuesday after two days of important conferences with congressional leaders in Washington. Mrs. Eisenhower returned by car, preferring not to fly in the President's unpressurized, two-engine plane because of a valvular heart condition she has had for many years.

The President has no engagements on his schedule for the rest of this week except his Saturday examination date with Dr. Paul Dudley White, Boston Heart specialist.

ON SUNDAY he will make a live telecast from Gettysburg, clicking a telegraph key which will light the national Christmas tree on the White House grounds in Washington. He will speak briefly.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerly, under questioning by reporters, said the very quiet schedule for the President this week was "not necessarily" dictated by the doctors but had been arranged for some time.

The President's physicians apparently realized weeks ago that following intensive conferences on the budget and the State of the Union message, it would be advisable for Mr. Eisenhower to have a few days of the greatest possible ease.

While he may escape paper work the rest of this week, the President undoubtedly will have to take a certain number of priority telephone calls at the farm. Thursday and Friday, he probably will dictate for brief periods to his personal secretary, Mrs. Ann Whitman.

CONGRESSIONAL LEADERS who met with Mr. Eisenhower during the Washington conferences were impressed with his seeming fitness. One of them — Rep. Clarence Cannon (D-Mo.) — commented Tuesday:

"I was gratified to note the alertness, the aggressiveness of the President in conducting the conference. He was as active as any boy 16 years old. He was the picture of health."

REICH

During World War II, his wife Ruth and children moved to Palm Springs, and after his release from active duty he came here and opened the Village Market in December of 1946, which he still owns. The children are Kenny, a senior in Palm Springs High School, and Carolyn, a sophomore.

AMONG THE MANY civic and community groups he has served in Palm Springs since that time are: Chamber of Commerce, director; Boy Scouts, district chairman; American Legion, chairman of the house committee; Rotary Club, president; Baseball Park project, chairman; Jewish Community Center, director. He currently is a director of the Rotary Club, and president of the Youth Coordinating Council.

In district activities, he has served as a member of the Governor's Advisory Council for Rotary, and the Riverside County Council, Boy Scouts of America. He also is widely known as a speaker at service clubs, and has most often talked in the field of national defense.

REGARDING HIS candidacy, Reich said:

"My personal feeling about running for the Republican nomination for Congress is that here is a field for which I have had the necessary education, training and experience. I have confidence that I could do a top flight job representing my district in Washington and would go there with the intention of making a career out of it; so as to build up seniority and be of real value to my area and to the country."

"My long career in the Navy should be ample evidence that I am essentially a patriotic person. I like people and through the years have evidenced this by continually working in Community organizations and youth groups. My wife and children have been equally active in community life."

"I AM THE OWNER of what can properly be classed as a 'small business' and as such feel that I am a working man with an appreciation of the working man's problems. I shall cross file and during my campaign will appeal for both Democratic and Republican votes."

"I have made a round of visits in the two counties and have had many expressions of support from leading citizens. I shall continue these visits in an effort to know people better."

Other candidates who are seeking Phillips' post are: Republican, Jacqueline Cochran Odum, world famous aviatrix, Indio; and Democratic, Judge D. S. Saund of Westmorland justice court.

Visitor to Village Fatally Stricken

A 63-year-old man, visiting from Downey, collapsed yesterday afternoon in a hotel at 465 Mel Avenue. He was dead before medical help could arrive, the apparent victim of a heart attack.

The victim, Donald Stadler Haines, was taken to Weifels and Sons mortuary for examination into the cause of death by Riverside Deputy coroner Robert L. Drake. Drake will make his report later today.

Jordan Cabinet Quits, Nation to Sign West Pact

AMMAN, Jordan — Jordan's Cabinet quit today and a new Premier prepared to sign the new Western Baghdad pact in a move sure to widen the split between the Arab nations of the Middle East.

Premier Said Al-Mufti and his government resigned following intense talks here in Amman with the commander in chief of the British Army, Gen. Sir Gerald Templer.

Simultaneously, in London the British Cabinet met for an hour in an unscheduled session, possibly to cope with the flaring crisis in Jordan whose Army and budget Britain underwrites each year to the tune of 25 million dollars.

It was announced here that King Hussein asked former Interior Minister Haza Majali to become Premier shortly after Al-Mufti took his resignation to the Royal Palace. Majali's government was expected to bring Jordan promptly into membership in the West's "northern tier" defense organization in the Middle East, the British-sponsored Middle East Treaty Organization.

METO, also called the Baghdad pact, now counts as members Britain, Pakistan, Turkey, Iraq and Israel.

Lincoln-Mercury to Close Up Year's Business Early

"We are striving hard, believe it or not, to close our yearly business up tomorrow, the next day or a week from now," announced Leo Athans, general sales manager for Lincoln Mercury here.

"Our closing date," he added, "hinges on the final sale of the 41-car goal we have set for sale in December, of which there are only 30 left now."

THEN LEO ATHANS explained the reason for the intensive sales drive to clear all 1956 Mercurys off their floor before the advent of the new year.

"We want to pass on to the buyers of these fine automobiles the taxes this company would have to pay if they are inventoried as on hand at the close of the current year. It is our aim to start the new year with a completely new inventory in Mercurys."

"NO MATTER WHAT day the last car is sold, if it be a day or ten days before the close of the year, we plan to close our business establishment until next year. Even most of the mechanical department will be permitted to take the vacation," he added.

The entire organization is eagerly bent on enjoying this vacation and intensive efforts are being made to find buyers who "want an exceptionally nice Christmas gift at a great savings" Athans said.

Kettmann Attends Police Institute in San Francisco

A. G. Kettmann, Chief of the Palm Springs police department, returned last weekend from an intense three days of study at the Police Officers' Administrative Institute in San Francisco during which every facet of police administration, methods of running a police department, was discussed in detail.

Kettmann said today that the meeting, held annually, was attended by chiefs of police and sheriffs from all the western states. Lectures were delivered by the men most qualified to teach police department administration.

THE THREE-DAY course lasted eight and a half hours each day, and included a lecture and question and answer period in morning and afternoon sessions.

The topics and lecturers included: O. W. Wilson, Dean of the School of Criminology, University of California; organization of a police force in small and large communities, and organization of auxiliary or reserve forces to assist the regular department.

John D. Holstrom, chief of police, Berkeley; selection for appointment and promotion, eligibility for promotion, and placing the responsibility of who should make the final decision concerning promotion.

DR. J. H. RANKIN, psychiatric consultant, Los Angeles Police Department; psychiatric aspects of police service and the value and use of psychiatric skills in examination of candidates, personnel counseling, and disciplinary cases. James J. Fulton, captain of Los Angeles police; the need for planning and research in police work, and in crime and traffic analysis and operations.

Richard Simon, deputy chief of police, Los Angeles; budgeting as an administrative control device and budget requests and their justifications.

F. R. COOP, administrative officer, Inglewood; fringe benefits and personnel procedures, welfare and morale of personnel.

William M. Whelan, special agent in charge, FBI, San Francisco; devices designed to assist chiefs and sheriffs in control of their department intelligence units and inspections.

Dr. Gilbert Brighthouse, chairman of the department of psychology, Occidental college; selection of leaders, supervision, personnel rating, and discipline.

WILLIAM H. PARKER, chief of police, Los Angeles; chief's responsibility, organization of public relations, interdepartmental relations, relations with higher authorities, and police-public relationships.

The information disseminated at the meeting, gathered by Kettmann, will aid him in the coming year in his duties as chief of the local department as concerns every facet of his work, and in training his subordinates who head departments.

Rose Bowl Tickets on Sale Tomorrow

PASADENA — A block of 3500 Rose Bowl tickets will be offered to the public tomorrow at 8 a.m. it was announced today.

UCLA Athletic Director Wilbur Jones said the first 1750 persons in line at Gate G of the Rose Bowl would be entitled to the purchase of two tickets each.

Police Officers School to be Held Here Next Year

John J. Peper, state supervisor of peace officers' training for California Department of Education, will lecture before a two-week-long supervisors school starting April 2, 1956, as part of training under a program designed for the Palm Springs Police department by Chief A. G. Kettmann.

Kettmann announced today that Peper and O. W. Wilson, professor of police administration at University of California, will deliver lectures to captains and sergeants of the Palm Springs department and visiting officers from other departments. Kettmann said Don Hayes, chief of police of Tucson, has made arrangements to send two of his officers here for the school.

Among topics to be taught and later discussed will be: organization of a force, selection for appointment and promotion, budgeting, welfare and morale of personnel, and departmental controls.

Officers who will attend from the local force include Capt. O. O. Johnson and Sgts. Bill Lux, Bob Ralph, Dale Thompson, John Herrera, Bob Young, Ted Greene and Bob White.

Gov. Lausche of Ohio Candidate for Presidency

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Gov. Frank J. Lausche today announced he would be a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination next year.

The five-term governor announced he would seek Ohio's 566 delegates to next year's Democratic National Convention. He would not say if he would permit his name to be entered in contests for delegates in other states.

Lausche, who often has expressed publicly his admiration for President Eisenhower, thus became the second person to announce for the country's highest office. Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic standard bearer in 1952, has announced he will seek the nomination again.

The car was stopped by the officers, and they took Bird into custody. He admitted that he had shattered a large hole in the door with a crow-bar from his box of carpenter tools.

AT THE STATION, Bird was asked if he wanted to contact anyone, and he said he didn't, adding that he had broken with his family 20 years ago, and though a bachelor, had no close friends.

Bird said he wanted a drink and had been driving around town for five hours thinking about it. He said after he smashed the glass he found the inside lock to be double and impossible to open.

Bird had 88 cents in his possession when he was booked.

Cyprus Communist Party Outlawed by Great Britain

NICOSIA, Cyprus — Britain today outlawed the Communist Party on this strategic island in the Mediterranean and arrested 130 of its members, including the Red mayors of two major cities. Also seized was the Communist "strongman," Party Secretary Ezekias Papaioannu.

It was the first time the British indicated openly that the Communists were fomenting unrest on Cyprus, scene of increased disorders by pro-Greek islanders. Cyprus is headquarters for Britain's Middle East Command and a vital link in the NATO defenses.

Gov. Field Marshal Sir John Harding sent British troops and security police in a series of sudden and unexpected raids on Communist and leftwing headquarters across the island throughout the night.

Blizzard Rakes Canada, North United States

(By UNITED PRESS)
A killer blizzard raked three Canadian provinces today and swept the Northern United States with wind-driven snow.

The Canadian blizzard was the worst of the season and had killed at least one person. Six oil field workers were reported stranded without food in an isolated camp, scores of other persons were forced to take refuge, and business came almost to a standstill.

The provinces of Saskatchewan, Alberta, and Manitoba all felt the blizzard's wrath. In Alberta, a school driver was stranded in his bus for 12 hours just after he had driven 40 children to their homes. Elsewhere, motorists were stranded, schools were closed, and chest-high drifts blocked the highways. The blinding snowstorm was not as severe in this country, but it still whirled to near-blizzard proportions in North Dakota.

THE SCHOOLS at Williston, N. D., were closed after a 40-degree temperature drop yesterday. But school officials announced it was all a mistake. Someone sent in a fraudulent report to a radio station during the lunch hour that the schools wouldn't reopen. As a result, 2,000 children stayed home.

More blowing and drifting snow was predicted for the Dakotas and Minnesota today. Houghton, Mich., reported a seven-inch snowfall in 24 hours and Duluth, Minn., residents measured four inches of snow.

The cold air mass crowded southward from the Canadian border, reaching near zero levels in the northern snow area and stretching as far south as Northern Texas.

Recover Lyons' Car in Pasadena

Dave Lyons' 1955 station wagon, stolen from the lot of his Saddle and Sirlion Restaurant early Saturday morning, was discovered yesterday on a used car lot in Pasadena, for sale.

According to a bulletin from Pasadena's police chief, the station wagon was seen by officers on routine patrol and found to be for sale as a used car.

Following investigation by Pasadena and Palm Springs police, the car will be returned to Lyons.

Mrs. Ardis Willis Elected President of Mother's Club

THOUSAND PALMS—The Thousand Palms Mother's Club held its regular meeting at the schoolhouse Thursday afternoon, at which time they held an election of officers for the next year.

Mrs. Ardis Willis was elected president of the group, Mrs. Christine, secretary-treasurer and Mrs. Irene Papp, publicity director.

THE MEMBERS PRESENT unanimously voted to use the proceeds from the organization "Cook-book Project" for the betterment of the local school. The project has proved very successful and the books are almost all sold.

The organization has inaugurated an attendance policy in which they voice a plea for support of the entire community. One member voiced the opinion that "since the school belongs, not only to the parents of the children who attend it, but to the taxpayers, this organization urges everyone to come out and attend the meetings."

THE MEETINGS ARE held on the first Tuesday of every month, at 2:30 in the afternoon, however, the January meeting will be held at the schoolhouse on January 10, at the regular time.

The organization reported that it was gratified by the satisfactory progress the children are making under the leadership of the new school teacher, Mrs. Alyne Kemp.

Noted Specialist to be Available at Desert View

DESERT HOT SPRINGS — Dr. Arthur T. Ooghe, M.D., a specialist in pediatrics, from Riverside, will be available for consultation with patients of the Angel View Crippled Children's Foundation Clinic in Desert Hot Springs today.

Dr. Ooghe is one of a group of specialists who will make their services available to patients of the clinic from time to time.

Dr. Robert Bingham, medical director of the foundation, pointed out that "Dr. Ooghe is well qualified in his specialty in treating children. He received his training at Stanford and the University of California at Berkeley before entering his specialty."

"He interned at San Francisco Hospital and did his resident work at St. Christopher's in Philadelphia. Further preparation was made at the University of California Medical Center and at Temple University in Philadelphia. He served in the Navy for a tour of duty and was stationed at El Toro Marine Base."

The clinic head announced that Dr. Ooghe would be available at the foundations' headquarters at 99-166 Pierson Boulevard from 2 until 4 p.m., on Wednesday of this week. Those persons wishing to avail themselves of this service for children may make an appointment by calling 4-2943.

Rogers to Speak at CV Banquet

INDIO — Herb Rogers, producer for the Palm Springs Playhouse, will be guest speaker at a Coachella Valley High school banquet to be held Thursday night at 7 p.m.

He will speak to the drama students on the subject, "Choosing the Theater as a Profession."

Rogers is also producer of the Tenthous Theater in the Highland Park suburb of Chicago.

29 Indian Land Tracts Offered for Sale in Valley

DESERT EMPIRE — Twenty-nine tracts, of Indian land within the Coachella Valley are being offered for sale in an advertisement issued by the Sacramento Area Office of the Bureau of Indian Affairs.

The tracts vary in size from 1.3 to 160 acres. Within Riverside county some 1,083.48 acres are being offered at a total valuation of $272,787. All acreage is located within the Coachella Valley and consists of potentially irrigatable lands which could be developed into highly productive farm lands.

Other lands throughout the state are being offered. Sealed bids for these properties are solicited in a 12-page circular released today by the Sacramento Area Office of the Bureau. Bids will be received at the Area Office until 10 a.m., January 17, 1956. Sales will be made to the highest acceptable bidder, but no bid will be accepted which does not equal or exceed the Bureau's appraised valuation which is stated in the advertisement.

A copy of the land sale advertisement may be obtained by writing to the Sacramento Area Office, Bureau of Indian Affairs, P.O. Box 749, Sacramento 4, California, or by calling at Room 224, Federal Building, Sacramento, California.

New 236-Mile Gas Pipeline Proposed by 2 Companies

The Southern California Gas Company and the Southern California Gas Company this week filed an amended application with the California Public Utilities Commission calling for the construction of a 236-mile pipeline from Toprock on the Colorado River to Newhall.

The new line will bring an additional 177 million cubic feet of gas daily from out-of-state to supply the two companies' two million customers in Southern California. The Federal Power Commission has authorized the El Paso Natural Gas Company to increase its deliveries to the Southern California companies by that amount.

The present pipeline system bringing gas into Southern California from out of state runs from Blythe to Santa Fe Springs. The new system will take the gas at Toprock on the state line near Needles and will terminate at Newhall.

If the California Commission approves this application, the two local companies propose to begin building this new line early next year. Gas delivered at Newhall would arrive in the metropolitan area over a 41-mile segment to Alhambra that is not a part of this application. Total estimated cost of both lines and auxiliary facilities is $30,750,000.

Christmas Party to be Held Dec. 22

THOUSAND PALMS — Mrs. Alyne Kemp, teacher of the local school, today announced completion of plans for a Christmas party which will be held the last day of school prior to Christmas vacation.

The party, which is for parents and members of the community, will be held on December 22 at 11 a.m.

Everyone is invited to join in the festivities, making this event an even finer program than that held in October in observance of Halloween.

Junior Women's Club to Name Officers Tonight

CATHEDRAL CITY — An election of officers will be on the agenda of the Federated Junior Women's Club of Cathedral City tonight at 8 p.m. The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Harold Scribner, 32-201 Date Palm Drive.

Present for the election meeting will be Mrs. Roger Brandiger of San Bernardino, district coordinator; Mrs. Chester Madison, senior advisor from Cathedral City Woman's Club; and Miss Margaret Davidson, junior advisor.

An invitation to attend has been extended to anyone in this area who would like to do so.

Nine Directors Named to Board of Youth Center

CATHEDRAL CITY — Nine directors were elected to the Board of the Cathedral City Youth Center at a meeting Monday night at the town hall.

The new directors are: Ray Abbey, Anita Buccino, Dr. James Buckema, Paul Clark, Dave Cromwell, Madeline Gallerani, Robert Irvine, May Jorgensen, and Carl Mayfield.

Mrs. Gallerani was elected chairman.

New President to be Elected

RANCHO MIRAGE—The Rancho Mirage Chamber of Commerce held its first meeting of the season with Ted Smith in charge as acting president. In January there will be an election meeting to determine who will replace Mrs. Gladys Smith as president. It has been necessary for her to resign the office and also to resign from the man of the board by the directors.

More than 40 persons attended the meeting and Paul Watkins acted as chairman for the night. The new directors will hold office for one year.

board of directors. Elected to replace Mrs. Smith on the board was F. E. Breiding of Los Angeles and Rancho Mirage.

At the termination of the business meeting, plans were immediately started for the Chamber of Commerce Christmas party. The date has been set for 7 p.m., Friday, December 23, at the Wilshire Awning and Furniture Company on Highway 111 in Rancho Mirage. There will be refreshments for the adults and Christmas stockings for the kiddies on the big tree in the patio.

The committee in charge of planning the party is made up of Blanche Andrews, Elizabeth Warren, F. E. Breiding and Eleanor Wagner.

The enlistment of Negroes as U. S. soldiers was authorized by President Lincoln Aug. 25, 1862.

Women's Club Plans Charter

CATHEDRAL CITY — Board members of the Cathedral City Women's Club met at the home of Mrs. Claude Cobb Tuesday night. Mrs. Cobb presided over the meeting with 12 officers of the club present.

The discussion centered around the organization of the Junior Women's Club and its charter.

Final plans for the annual Christmas party to be held December 21 were also a topic of the meeting.

Coffee and desert were served during the social hour after the close of the meeting.

STUDENT AND TEACHER - CIRCA 1928—pose prior to trip back home. Dr. Benjamin Goldberg hosted his former student, Dr. Benjamin Gasul and Mrs. Gasul at his Village home for the past week. Dr. Gasul will return to Illinois where he holds chair in pediatrics at University of Illinois and operates children's clinic in Chicago. Dr. Goldberg taught him diagnostic technique nearly 30 years ago.

Noted Heart Specialist Visits Former Instructor

By PHIL GALLISHAW

Yesterday I went to Dr. Benjamin Goldberg's home on Stevens Road to interview a heart specialist who last July in Atlanta was awarded, along with his staff, the American Medical Association's Silver Medal for research and tangible advancement in angio-cardiology.

I expected to find a giant, unapproachable, I knew angio meant vein and the other word meant heart. I was impressed.

I found Dr. Benjamin Gasul, who with his wife is visiting his former teacher for a week, to be a medium sized man, on the sunny side of middle age, who enjoyed his relaxation in the warmth of Palm Spring's sun as if he were being rewarded for hard work that he would soon go back to, and seemed to savor each moment.

He was dressed in heavy clothes, the style of men who work in a harsh winter climate. Though his wife had accepted, to an extent, the mode of desert wear, Dr. Gasul appeared to be vacationing on borrowed time.

HE IS A SPECIALIST in heart diseases of young persons — from birth to 17-year-olds. His work for the past ten years has been to do with picturing of the interior of the heart of youngsters stricken with congenital heart malady, or heart trouble incurred after birth such as rheumatic fever.

Ten years ago, Dr. Gasul, who is professor of pediatrics at the University of Illinois and head of the departments of pediatrics at the Presbyterian Children's Hospital and Cook County General Hospital, both in Chicago, started to work trying to uncover the mystery of heart diseases in children. There was no knowledge in medical circles that the heart could be pierced with an instrument without causing death.

SINCE THEN, SCIENCE has found that through artificially dropping the temperature and subsequently the pulse rate, the heart can be temporarily put out of action, by-passed, so that operations can be performed.

But even then, heart surgeons were unable to definitely isolate the degree of involvement (how bad is the heart trouble) and the possibility of correction by surgery.

Working with his staff of 15 assistants, Dr. Gasul developed a method of injecting the heart with a colorful fluid so as to clearly see where trouble occurs.

FIVE YEARS AGO, Dr. Gasul began operating on afflicted children. Up until his picturization work, Dr. Gasul knew that mortality rate for heart operations in children was 100 percent, or no survivors.

Today, the rate of mortality is 10 percent, and is gradually dropping below that.

Dr. Gasul believes that the time is not far distant when children suffering from heart diseases, whether congenital or post-natally incurred, will nearly all be allowed to live.

Besides his writing in which he outlined in detail indications for surgery of the interior of the heart, his research in care of children after operations aided in the direction toward the ultimate drop in the mortality rate.

HIS WORK is possibly as advanced, chronologically, as the polio research done by Dr. Jonas Salk and his staff.

Besides his research, Dr. Gasul operates a clinic, in actuality three clinics, at the university, the Presbyterian, and Cook County hospitals.

He is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, class of '21, and earned his medical doctorate at the University of Chicago.

From 1928 to 1931, he studied tuberculosis diagnosis under Dr. Goldberg, now retired in Palm Springs, when Dr. Goldberg was chief of staff of the Municipal Tuberculosis Sanitarium in Chicago, and assistant professor of pathology and bacteriology at the University of Illinois.

FROM 1932 to 1935, Dr. Gasul studied at the University of Vienna under doktor Von Piquet, whom he considers the foremost pediatrician of his time. He then returned to work at the University of Illinois for a further degree denoting complete study in a specialized field, and started in working with children.

Tonight he and his wife will return to the harshness of midwestern Winters, and start in toward perfection in his field. Since post-operation care is almost as important as the operation itself, and Dr. Gasul knows that the most intense time of a child's life is during the Christmas season, he knows that he must be with his patients who have come to rely on him so much.

Car Clouters Get $480 in Village Thefts

Five cases of petty theft and the defrauding of a hotel involving $695.90, were reported to police.

Marvin Lulla, Sherman Oaks, said men's and women's clothing, valued at $359.90, was taken from his unlocked convertible Sunday night or yesterday morning while it was parked at a hotel at 310 Indio Road. Lulla said the thief left an $80 movie camera in the back seat. He said it was plainly visible after the clothes had been taken off the hanger.

MRS. JESSIE MANIFOLD, of 1577 Indian Trail, told officers that two chaise lounge pads in their yellow terry-cloth covers were stolen from her front lawn Sunday night or Monday morning. She valued the loss at $25.

Morris Comess, Sherman Oaks, was the victim of a $30 hubcap theft Sunday night or Monday morning while his car was parked on Granvia Valmonte between Indian Avenue and Palm Canyon Drive.

J. C. Ragbould, 832 Riverside Place, stopped for about half an hour at 506 South Indian Avenue at 8:45 p.m. Sunday. Someone opened his car door and took a $7.50 rubber foot mat and walked on.

SATURDAY EVENING, Martin Ross, of Los Angeles, stopped at a mid-town hotel for about an hour. He had $60 worth of clothes on the back seat. When he got back into his car, he saw the side window had been tampered with, and noticed the clothing missing. He reported it to police immediately. The next morning, the clothes were found at Sunrise Way and Highway 111. They were wearable, but apparently not by the thief.

A local hotel manager told investigating officers that a man who signed his name as M. Desmond, Atkinson, Kansas, did so to a check for $213.50 to pay his bill. The check was returned by the bank, who said M. Desmond was a fictitious name.

Rosemary Favors Records — Along with Motherhood

By FRED DANZIG

United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK — (AP) — Rosemary Clooney would rather make records than movies. Why?

"Because," she said, "you can still make records when you're pregnant."

Rosemary, married to actor Jose Ferrer, has one child, Miguel, but she wants five more "just like him."

Another reason for Rosie liking the record business is summed up in one word—flexibility.

"If they need you to record something in a great big hurry, you don't have to be in New York or Hollywood," she explained. "You can cut a record in any big city, here or in Europe."

Rosie's preference also has its sentimental side, for it was her Columbia disk, "Come-On-A-My-Home," that first established her as a star.

"And to think," she recalled, "Mitch Miller (Columbia's artist and repertoire chief) had to argue with me to make that record. Since then, I've let Mitch pick my songs. I don't argue with him any more."

Rosemary and her sister, Betty, started their professional singing careers on radio station WLW in Cincinnati as teen-agers. Tony Pastor heard them and hired them for his band. The girls traveled all over the country, sometimes doing 60 songs a night.

Ironically, the first time Rosie ever suffered from laryngitis was when she was booked into a Chicago theatre, her first "important" booking as a single. To this day she is convinced that laryngitis among singers is chiefly psychosomatic. She says it sometimes develops when they feel they won't be able to live up to an audience's expectations. She hasn't been bothered lately.

As for her career meddling with her marriage, there is no problem. "Let's face it," she said. "I'm an old-fashioned girl who believes in large families. And there's really no need for me to work."

Sky Ridge Owners Conduct Contest for Decorations

With the Christmas season at hand, Merle and Clara Hancock, owners of Sky Ridge, are providing prizes for the best outside decorations.

Reliable and competent judges outside of the Park will do the judging December 18. It is hoped there will be much amiable competition in this contest.

Recent arrivals to be welcomed to scenic Sky Ridge Trailer Park include Mr. and Mrs. Norman Best from Midland, Michigan. Mrs. Maudine Mundell who has spent the past 15 years at Treasure Island, Laguna Beach, and Mr. and Mrs. R. Stevens Wright. The Wrights have traveled extensively and he is a recognized portrait artist.

On Thursday evening, at the club house, three series of colored movies was shown by A. F. Campbell from his private collection. They included pictures of the rare birds of Florida, Portland, Oregon Rose Festival and the Pendleton.

MR. AND MRS. BERT Conroy have returned to Sky Ridge after an absence of several weeks. They spent the Thanksgiving holidays with relatives at their home in Redwood City and remained to attend to some business.

There has been a noticeable increase in activity around the shuffleboard court this past week in preparation for the intra-park tournaments, to be held in the future. The new court is rapidly getting to the completion stage.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Fuson of San Diego were weekend guests of Merle and Clara Hancock, owners of Sky Ridge Park.

residents of the Park are studying landscape painting under Norma Barnhisel, another park resident. The scenes from Sky Ridge should offer some very satisfying subjects.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sailor, city manager of Newport Beach-Balboa Beach, have returned home after a very pleasant two weeks vacation here.

ALL OF THE RESIDENTS of Sky Ridge are very happy to note the decided improvement of Dr. Richard E. Day, well known minister and author, who has been with us for some time recuperating from a severe illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken White are spending some time at their home in Oakland.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Pierson has just entered the Navy and is in boot camp in San Diego.

Desert Museum Has Exhibit of Flint Eccentrics

The Desert Museum, a Community Chest Agency, is now displaying group of flint objects obtained on loan from Robert Beck, which are called "Eccentrics" because of their unusual shapes and seemingly useless nature.

These articles, recovered archeologically from sites in the Ohio and Tennessee Valleys, are quite variable in shape: some of them are very similar to arrow or spear points, but are elaborately notched or "winged"; others are of bird or fish shapes; still others are like nothing else in form, but have "V" and "U" shaped bars along the sides. All are exquisitely symmetrical and show complete mastery of the stone chipping techniques.

Contrary to a very popular belief, the Indians did not chip their stone projectile points or other objects by first heating the stone and then dropping water on it from the tip of a feather. Rather they employed one or both of two methods called "percussion" and "pressure" flaking.

In the percussion method a flake was knocked from a lump, or "core," of suitable material by striking it with a hammer-stone. This flake was then worked into desired shape either by hammering off smaller flakes or chips, or in the case of smaller and more delicate pieces, through literally prying off chips by pressure applied through the tip of a flaking tool—usually a tine or deer antler. The products of such work are sometimes truly amazing works of art.

GROWING PAINS — Tonight in the city council chambers (Airport) the Council will hold a public hearing to get the views of citizens on improvements to be included in a proposed bond issue. Villagers should give the council members the benefit of their views. It is also a good opportunity to get some first hand information on the projects on which you will vote next February.

I have already discussed at some length in this column these capital improvements which the Council proposes to submit to the voters:

There is also under consideration the opening of McCallum Way from Sunrise Way to Palm Canyon Drive and improvement of existing street from the Airport to Sunrise. Many people believe this project should be included in the new bond issue because the funds for it were approved in the last bond issue but used on the widening of Indian Avenue. The Indian Avenue job ran so much over estimates that it used almost all the funds planned for McCallum Way. The city cannot be blamed for this because it was obviously more important to complete the work on Indian Avenue.

This street would provide a direct route from the Airport — and vicinity — to the heart of town and is badly needed as an East-West thoroughfare. It stands to reason that, if the need for this street was recognized several years ago and the money voted, the need is now much greater and the voters should again be given the opportunity of approving it.

All of the improvements are needed as a result of the city's rapid growth during the past few years. The most important, perhaps, is the extension of the sewer system which now serves only the central business district. The extension would include trunk lines on all the major streets and enlargement of the sewer plant to handle the additional waste. It looks like this is a "must."

It is likely very wise of the city to acquire land at this time for its airport and a municipal golf course. It will be a good investment. Indeed, if the city waits too long the prices might be prohibitive. A good airport and a municipal golf course are important facilities for a resort community. The land should be acquired before prices go any higher.

The flood condition along Palm Canyon Drive and Indian Avenue in the vicinity of Alejo Road is very bad and should be relieved. This is the most seriously flooded area in the city during storms. It will also make possible the improvement of Alejo to Sunrise Way.

Street lighting and beautification, and the acquisition of DeMuth Park, are optional items that represent a combined cost of $255,000. These could be deferred but the attractiveness of the city as well as its utility features must be seriously considered — particularly in a resort community. They will have lots of support.

1) SEWER SYSTEM EXPANSION (In residential districts)	$1,500,000
2) LAND FOR MUNICIPAL GOLF COURSE (Acquisition of land only)	350,000
3) GOLF COURSE CONSTRUCTION (Fairways, greens and buildings)	400,000
4) AIRPORT LAND ACQUISITION (All of Sec. 18)	400,000
5) DE MUTH PARK ACQUISITION (Ramon, Indian and Palm Canyon)	200,000
6) TACHEVAH STORM DRAINS (Vicinity Alejo and Palm Canyon)	100,000
7) INDIAN AVENUE STREET LIGHTING (Ramon Road to Tachevah Drive)	75,000
8) PALMS & LIGHTS ON S. PALM CANYON (Ramon Road to Indian Trail)	80,000

Funeral Style — Every now and then something happens to remind us that some of us who are older, really belong to the old school. Changes are made in our plan or method of living, and we are unlikely to accept these changes without some hesitation. It is perfectly natural, perhaps, that we should cling to our old ideas, yet we must admit that in a world of progress, there are inevitable changes that we must accept, if we are to keep pace with society.

One of the things that we refer to particularly, is relative to the conduct of funerals. While we have never favored a funeral sermon that praised beyond belief, the individual who has passed on, we have always preferred to have an obituary read at the service; an obituary which tells briefly some of the things that were accomplished by the individual whose memory is being honored, of some of the organizations in which he held office, and of the family which is left behind to mourn his passing.

In many services of late, it seems the trend is to omit an obituary altogether, and this is the thing to which we object and which probably dates us as a member of the old school. The writer does believe, however, that ministers are preaching better sermons; sermons that do not tend to upset the remaining family; sermons that tend to comfort them rather than rouse them, and that is as it should be.

There are many folks who like the old fashioned method, with an obituary read at the service. The writer is one of that group. The newer method may be the better one but we still prefer to hear something about the life of the individual when we attend his last rites, and we believe he is entitled to that honor. Fortunately, however, it is the privilege of each and every family to make their own decision, and their decision is always respected and followed.

Christmas is coming
So be doubly blessed.
Head your list with the Community Chest.

Until the goal is reached, let's all be chest men. Which reminds me of something I read recently. Can't remember where so am unable to give due credit. But it fits in nicely with the Community Chest idea which is to give generously once instead of in small dribbles through out the year. Of course, this item I read is contrary to an old proverb but I'm for it, anyway. The quotation: "Let's put all of our eggs in one basket."

HARRY OLIVER, the wag of Thousand Palms, sent me a threatening letter last week. He complained that, while he appreciated my mentioning him occasionally, he did not appreciate my forgetfulness on one important item. "When you mention me," he wrote, "don't just say 'Harry Oliver.' Say, instead, 'Harry Oliver, publisher of the Desert Rat Scrap Book.'" But I'll be the bad word if I'm going to mention all of his other titles. Because he is not only the publisher but everything else that goes with the publication. He wants me to remember that Harry Oliver and the Desert Rat Scrap Book always go together like hame and eggs, Damon and Pythias or sauerkraut and wieners. On the other hand, I believe I made a mistake when I called him the wag of Thousand Palms. I think that title should go to the appendage on the rear end of Whiskers, his dog. That's the real wag of Thousand Palms.

I AM WORKING on an idea for another invention to take the rigors out of night driving. That is a mirror to be fastened near the top of the rear window of the family automobile. One that can be adjusted by the driver or from the seat immediately to the right. Then when another driver, who follows too closely, forgets that there is a law in the California Vehicle Code which stipulates that the low beam must be used when within a specific distance of the car ahead, I'll manipulate the mirror and let him have it. His own bright beam right smack in the eye hole. That'll confuse him. The mirror will be so rigged that if he obeys the law and uses the low beam, there will be no shine-back.

OSCAR GILBERT of the Town and Country is beginning to believe there is a jinx after all. He used to pooh pooh me when I mentioned such things as walking under ladders, shooting black cats away before they crossed my path or tossing hats upon a bed. But he's changing his mind now. Twice within three days he's had to rustle out candles so patrons of his cafe could finish their meals. Thursday, molten lead cut off the power in the building for two hours. Then on Sat night, with cash registers jingling merrily, a palm tree fire just south of the Center, cut off power for an hour and a half. No lights, no electric ranges, no jingle of the cash registers. They operate on electricity, too. But look, Oscar, suppose Ben Franklin had never run that key up a kite string! You'd be cleaning kerosene lamps and there's be no Satevepost.

LIBRARY NOTES

It is always surprising to the uninitiated to discover the thoughtful preparation that goes into the writing, editing and publishing of children's books.

Recently, for example, a well known writer of children's stories told me that her manuscripts are carefully checked by her publishing house for accuracy of detail. She is not permitted to say merely "a tree." She must say "a tamarisk tree" or "a beach nut tree"; and these facts are further investigated with regard to whether or not the particular kind of tree mentioned is indigenous to the locale of the story and if whatever is said about the tree is factually correct.

This author is not a writer of fact, but rather of fiction. All the background detail, however, must be verifiable so the young reader is not subjected to a barrage of misinformation.

Illustrations for children's books are also scrutinized for authenticity. Open Ludwig Bemmelman's new book for little ones called PARSLEY and you will be fascinated by the beautiful illustrations. Turn to the back of the book and you will find each flower identified by name. Closer attention will prove that each pictured example is perfectly recognizable despite (or is it because of?) its artistic interpretation as part of this entrancing story.

It is for such reasons as these that children's books cost as much as more adult fare. The age of the reader has no bearing on the monetary value of a book.

Santa Claus, in the guise of the publishers of children's books, has this year been very generous in his preparation for the great day. As an aid to those donors who are puzzling over which of the infinite variety to give, the Welwood Murray Memorial Library makes the following suggestions.

For the very young: WITH BELLS ON, the story of a Pennsylvania Christmas by Milhaus; ON BEYOND ZEBRA, another intriguing Dr. Suess book; THE COLUMBUS STORY, a retelling of the life of the heroic Christopher by Dalgleish; Johnson's bewitching HAROLD AND THE PURPLE CRAYON; Wheeler's SING FOR CHRISTMAS and Masha's CHILD'S BOOK OF CHRISTMAS CAROLS, both with words and music.

The new Masha book is a companion to A CHILD'S STORY OF THE NATIVITY, the beautifully executed format of which has made it a classic for Christmas giving since its publication in 1943.

For the intermediates: NICKY'S FOOTBALL TEAM by Renick; FREDDY AND THE BASEBALL TEAM FROM MARS by Brooks; Norris Faith's KIM OF KOREA; Sterling's BROWNIE SCOUT MYSTERY and BEEZUS AND RAMONA by Cleary. Just a glance at these titles and it is obvious that this group of readers demands excitement and action. These are the children whose reading habits are constantly in competition with the enticing lure of television and the subject matter they are given must be equally baited with interest and imagination.

For the more mature readers who are making the transition from youthful to adult material: Roy Chapman Andrews' stimulating and adventure packed QUEST OF THE SNOW LEOPARD; Charles M. Daugherty's WHERE THE CONDOR NESTS; another in the popular Landmark series THE FRENCH FOREIGN LEGION by Blasingame; and Freeman's FUN WITH YOUR CAMERA, which is informative but simple and easy to follow.

Why not stop in at the Children's Room and talk over your gift problem with Mrs. Webb? Her understanding of what the young reader seeks is well grounded in experience and you will be delighted with the wonderful Christmas atmosphere she has achieved with her decorations. You won't want to miss the lovely creche carved from Ivory soap and donated to the library by Miss Donna Casey, the physiotherapist supporting the Elks campaign for cerebral palsy victims. Miss Casey is always so generous. It is quite all right if the creche is damaged through handling by interested admirers, she says, because it cost only 15c. Miss Casey modestly refrains from referring to the enormous amount of time and skill that went into the making of this exquisitely wrought symbol of Christmas.

At the same time, it is deemed probable that another parley will be held "sooner or later." The congressional leaders were informed this matter will be foremost among those slated to be discussed with Prime Minister Anthony Eden when he comes to the White House next month. It was indicated that Eden is in general agreement with the U.S., but differs on certain key details. These were not outlined to the congressional chiefs. But they will have an opportunity to talk with the British Prime Minister during his visit. They were given assurances of that. Eden has particularly expressed desire to meet with Senator Walter George (D-Ga.), chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee. NOTE: The lawmakers also learned President Eisenhower has decided that spending for foreign military and economic aid in the next fiscal year will be approximately the same as in the current one—$4,200,000,000. Of this amount $2,400,000,000 will be for military purposes, and $1,800,000,000 for economic and technical expenditures. It was indicated that

It Happened Last Night

NEW YORK — Tallulah Bankhead's dog Dolores kept interrupting Tallulah's talking — being perhaps the only living thing that could ... "Dolores, will you SHUT UP?" Tallulah pleaded. Turning to her butler, Robert, Tallulah said, "Dolores, will you SHUT HER UP? Get her some scotch-and-soda, or coffee, or tea or something? No, Dolores, I will NOT give you another Life Saver! Whatever I have, Dolores has got to have, even if it's caviar," Tallulah explained to me, and closed her eyes as she swung restlessly about the room. Tallulah, was at her hotel. She's between giving up her famous country house at Pound Ridge, N. Y., and taking a town house on E. 62d St.

"So you're really giving up the farm life to be a city slicker?" I inquired.

"WILL YOU SHUT UP, — IT! No, not you, darling, I was talking to Dolores. Yes, the trouble was I would never leave and come to town. I haven't seen any plays in YEARS. Then there were the hurricanes, the lightning was striking the deep freeze, and I was alone ... So I took this little house here. It has 4 bedrooms — I had 5 in the country — and 6 fireplaces. I only had 5 fireplaces in the country. In a pinch somebody can always sleep in one of the fireplaces, darling."

But now Tallulah's to do "Street-Car Named Desire" in Florida and at the City Center, then she goes into the Ziegfeld Follies — and everybody is impressed because she makes the theater so worthwhile and also because she practically vowed on a bottle of Scotch she'd never act in a theater again.

"Oh, you know I took that back right when I said it," Tallulah turned to Robert. "Darling, why don't you sit down? You can't butte properly without your uniform. You just have to get used to these regues of the press who drop in, Darling — to me —" how long have you had your crew-cut. I LOATHE them, you know." "How did you come to agree to do the Follies?" I asked. "I was brain-washed by Dick Kollmar. I said 'Darling, I CAN'T do anything.' He bullied me. He has a darling sense of humor. I'll have 3 or 4 sketches and I'll come down in a beautiful dress and probably trip right over my feet. I don't mind anybody stealing the Follies from me, because then I won't have to work so hard." "I just remembered that you always have to have somebody with you to help you cross the street," I said. "Isn't that going to be difficult living in town?" "Dolores, WILL YOU SHUT UP! Of course it won't be difficult darling. I always have somebody with me; my 'caddies.' I've never had any trouble, darling, getting anybody to go places with me. I've never had to hire a Pinkerton! Although other people have hired them to watch me ..."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL ... Grid star Hopalong Cassidy, winner of the Heisman Award, cheered the new Haul Scott-Romo Vincent show at the Latin Quarter. He was there with Coach Woody Hayes and fellow-Ohio Stater Milton Caniff ... Wasn't there a fire in Gen. MacArthur's suite at the W — ? Dagmar's in a wheel chair with torn ligaments in her ankles. Danced too hard in "Amazing Adele" rehearsals. Be o.k. next week ... Jayne Mansfield's huge Great Dane bit her savagely in the leg ...

Washington Report

WASHINGTON — It is very possible there will be another Big Four foreign ministers conference next year.

Despite the recent futile parley in Geneva, the U.S. is willing to resume those negotiations — on one condition: Concrete evidence that the Kremlin has given up its unyielding opposition to the unification of a free Germany and European security.

That's what congressional leaders have been told in their talks with President Eisenhower.

It was stressed that this "receptive" attitude of the American government does not mean new overtures for another conference are under way. They are not, and none are contemplated at present.

At the same time, it is deemed probable that another parley will be held "sooner or later."

The congressional leaders were informed this matter will be foremost among those slated to be discussed with Prime Minister Anthony Eden when he comes to the White House next month.

It was indicated that Eden is in general agreement with the U.S., but differs on certain key details.

These were not outlined to the congressional chiefs. But they will have an opportunity to talk with the British Prime Minister during his visit. They were given assurances of that.

Eden has particularly expressed desire to meet with Senator Walter George (D-Ga.), chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee.

NOTE: The lawmakers also learned President Eisenhower has decided that spending for foreign military and economic aid in the next fiscal year will be approximately the same as in the current one—$4,200,000,000. Of this amount $2,400,000,000 will be for military purposes, and $1,800,000,000 for economic and technical expenditures. It was indicated that under this budget it is planned to slightly increase aid to both the Arab countries and Israel. No figures were given the legislators.

FLASHES — Premier Nehru will play host to another prominent Communist. This time it will be a visitor from Red China—Madame Soong Ching-Ling, widow of Dr. Sun Yet-sen, founder of the Chinese Republic, and sister of Madame Chiang Kai-shek, whose husband is Generalissimo of the Chinese Nationalists on Formosa. Madame Soong is vice chairman of the Standing Committee of Red China's so-called People's Congress and is going to India in that capacity. She will stay in Nehru's official residence during her three-week visit in India. The Navy is setting up a medical research unit on Formosa, headed by Captain Robert A. Phillips, of Clear Lake, Iowa. He will have a staff of 80 doctors and technicians ... A speed-up in West Germany's rearmament is slated to be discussed at the meeting of NATO foreign ministers in Paris later this week. It is being proposed that four instead of two German divisions be organized in 1956. Secretary Dulles will tell the conference the U.S. is prepared to step up its military aid to Germany to expedite this speed-up.

By BENNETT CERF

A WAY BACK in 1667, a Danish scholar named Thomas Bartholin pointed out that "Without books, God is silent, justice dormant, natural science at a stand, philosophy lame, letters dumb, and all things in Cimmerian darkness." And of your public library, where these precious books may be obtained absolutely free, the American Library Association adds, "The library is not a shrine for the worship of books. It is not a temple where literary incense must be burned or where one's devotion to the bound book is expressed in ritual. A library, to modify the famous metaphor of Socrates, is the delivery room for the birth of ideas — a place where history comes to life."

James Michener has just received a valuable suggestion from an enthusiast who came upon "Tales of the South Pacific" in northernmost Canada. "Your characters," he wrote Michener, "are extraordinarily vivid. Have you ever thought of putting them into a play?" Copyright, 1955, by Bennett Cerf. Distributed by King Features Syndicate.

Racquet Club, Tennis Center, Now Has Golf Facilities

The Racquet Club has announced a new golfing facility for its members and their guests with the addition of Al Christy to its staff of teaching professionals, Charles Farrell said this week.

Christy, who started his career of professional instruction 25 years ago and most recently was at Midwick Country Club, Los Angeles, will be available from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. daily.

THE SERVICE is designed for members and guests who plan to play a round at one of the local clubs and wish to get a little driving, chipping, and putting practice in before playing the regular courses.

With a driving net, sand trap, approach area, and putting green, Christy's practice grounds will incorporate every feature of a golf course except the fairway.

The driving net is similar to a baseball practice backstop. Two sides, a top and back catches balls driven from an automatic tee setter about ten feet from tee to target.

Webb and Wife Together Again

HOLLYWOOD — Actor Jack Webb, who won fame as Sgt. Friday on the "Dragnet" television series, said today he and his wife, Dorothy Towne, have reconciled after a four-week separation.

"We've ironed out our problems and are extremely happy to be together again," Webb said.

The reconciliation took place Monday night when Miss Towne returned to her Toluca Lake home after visiting her mother in Yuma, Arizona.

Webb and Miss Towne were married about a year ago after his divorce from actress Julie London. The separation led to reports of a possible divorce.

Coast Guard to Start 24-Hour Harbor Patrol

SAN DIEGO — The Coast Guard said today its 24-hour patrol of San Diego Harbor will begin Monday at noon. Three new cutters have been brought to San Diego to form the patrol.

Ships approaching the San Diego Bay entrance will be required to identify themselves.

South American Fraud Studied

SAN FRANCISCO — Postal inspectors today were working at breaking up a chain letter racket that offers a trip to Uruguay for $1 — but profits its sponsors $390,625.

J. H. Van Meter, assistant postal inspector here, said the nationwide fraud originates from Montevideo.

San Francisco residents have been getting airmail letters from there reading:

"Uruguay, South American Riviera is awaiting you... this most wonderful trip is all yours for just $1."

The letter tells the receiver to mail a check for $5 to the company and sell four accompanying coupons for $1 each to friends who go through the same process.

"When the process is completed seven times," says the letter, "your coupon is automatically worth a free round-trip to Uruguay."

Meanwhile sponsors of the chain letter would have received replies from 78,125 persons and collected $390,625.

Police Exams Set for Jan. 13

Examinations for patrolmen for the Palm Springs police department will be given at 7 p.m., January 13, at the city offices, according to A. G. Kettmann, chief of police.

Kettmann said the applicants must be between 21 and 35 years old, at least five feet nine inches tall, and weigh 155 pounds.

Applicants must file with the city manager, either in person or by letter, prior to noon, January 12.

The salary for patrolmen ranges from $318 to $390 a month.

Need Now Great for Missionaries on Americanism

RIVERSIDE — Dr. A. Ray Olpin, University of Utah president, says he favors a type of American missionary system analogous to that of the Mormon church.

Olpin told the Institute of World Affairs yesterday the United States needs a group "of dedicated young men to preach Americanism in foreign lands."

Men selected for such a career as diplomats should be more interested in their work than in personal advancement, he said.

"Present-day career diplomats do no display a missionary-like interest in spreading Americanism," he said.

Body of Missing Man Discovered

A mounted sheriff's posse from Twenty-nine Palms yesterday discovered the body of Harvey Wenzel, 83, of San Gabriel, who was missing more than 24 hours.

Wenzel's body was found in an isolated desert area 15 miles from where he began an early morning walk Monday. The posse, led by Sheriff Frank Bland, of San Bernardino County, along with the Twenty-nine Palms sheriff's reserve unit, combed the desert throughout the night after Wenzel failed to return from his walk.

The victim's wife said her husband was nearly blind and wandered off alone from the home of friends where they were visiting. Wenzel was clad only in light clothing. Bland said the below-freezing night temperature probably caused his death.

Major Parties Agree on No Cut in Taxes Now

By VINCENT J. BURKE
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Democratic and Republican leaders in the House agreed today there should be no immediate tax cut when Congress returns next month.

Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin, Jr., (Mass.), said the administration won't know until April whether the budgetary outlook will be such that it can recommend a tax cut for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

"I think it's quite doubtful we can have any substantial tax cut," Martin told newsmen. "If there is a tax cut, it would have to be a modest one."

AS FOR THE DEMOCRATS, Speaker Sam Rayburn (Tex.) made clear Tuesday that he is opposed "at present" to general tax reduction. "As of now," he would favor granting tax relief to low-income groups in the next session of Congress only if other taxes could be hiked simultaneously to offset the revenue loss.

This indicated that Rayburn wants to let President Eisenhower take the lead in deciding whether there should be a tax cut in 1956 — a presidential election year.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.), already has called for tax relief for "small income groups."

Martin told newsmen the administration would announce its tax recommendations no later than April 15. In the meantime, Martin and Rayburn agreed that Congress probably will extend the 52 percent tax on corporate income scheduled to drop to 47 percent on April 1.

RAYBURN'S STAND produced immediate opposition from Sen. Walter F. George (D-Ga.). George reiterated his belief that income taxes can be cut three billion dollars or more in the fiscal year starting July 1.

But George got no support from Chairman Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.) of the Senate Finance Committee. Byrd, who favors scaling down the national debt before taxes are cut, predicted the administration will have to choose next year between balancing the budget or cutting taxes.

"They will gain greater political advantage" for the election campaign, by choosing a balanced budget, he said.

DEMOCRATS PICK UP SIX SEATS IN STATE LEGISLATURE WITH NO LOSS

By JAMES C. ANDERSON
United Press Staff Correspondent

SACRAMENTO — Democrats have picked up six seats from Republicans in the last 13 special elections for the Legislature and haven't lost a single district to the GOP.

Does that indicate a Democratic tidal wave and a good chance that Republicans will lose control of the Legislature in 1956 for the first time in modern California history?

Republican State Chairman Thomas W. Caldecott, a legislator himself, doesn't think so.

Caldecott admits Republicans can find little comfort in special election results the last two years. But he refuses to push the panic button and concede the trend is toward Democratic majorities in the Assembly and Senate next year.

"I don't think the special election results indicate a Democratic sweep in the Legislature next year," he said. "I think we'll pick up seats in the Assembly, possibly get back to 50 or 51."

"AND I DON'T THINK Democrats will carry the Senate. But Republicans are going to have to fight. It'll be close."

With the two Democratic victories in the First Senatorial District and Eighth Assembly District last week, the current alignment in the Legislature is:

Assembly: Republicans 44, Democrats 33, three seats vacant.
Senate: Republicans 22, Democrats 18.

At the opening of the session in March 1953, the lineup was:
Assembly: Republicans 53, Democrats 27.
Senate: Republicans 29, Democrats 11.

In the 1956 elections, all 80 Assembly seats will be at stake plus 20 of the 40 Senate seats.

By coincidence, half of the Senate seats at stake next year are held by Republicans, half by Democrats.

Student Coming for Holidays

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Randolph go into Los Angeles today to meet her son McGill Hawley, student at Fountain Valley School in Colorado Springs, who is arriving for the holidays. The three of them will spend a couple of days in Beverly Hills visiting the Terry Hunts.

On January 2 the Randolphs and McGill will fly to Colorado Springs, where he will resume his studies. The Randolphs will then go on to Minneapolis to see her other son Michael who is in Shattuck Military School. Afterwards they will visit with friends and relatives in Minnesota, returning here in mid-January.

MR. AND MRS. Joseph J. Malone are eagerly awaiting the arrival of their daughter, Sister Elizabeth Ann, a nun with the Order of St. Joseph of Coronelet, at present in the St. John's Parish, Hyde Park, Los Angeles. While here she will reside at St. Theresa's.

Author and Teacher Are Collaborators on Essay

Writing on Marc Chagall, the famous French painter of modern art, Cornelia and Irving Sussman, have recently appeared together in a book called "The Bridge" published by Pantheon Press, New York.

"The Bridge" consists of a collection of essays on the subject of Christianity and Judaism by a number of famous writers, among them Raissa Maritain, the well-known French poet, wife of the great French philosopher Jacques Maritain; whose essay "Abraham and the Ascent of Conscience" deals with the growth of spiritual awareness in the human race. The first section of this volume which is edited by John Oesterreicher, Dean of the Institute of Jewish-Christian Studies and distinguished author of "Walls Are Crumbling", contains several serious and thoughtful essays, among them a stimulating analysis of the fascinating figure of Simone Weil whom T. S. Eliot called "a woman of genius", by Oesterreicher himself.

The second section, called Perspectives, contains a number of striking short articles including a complete re-evaluation of Shakespeare's "The Merchant of Venice" by Barry Ulanov who recently published a volume of translations of Bernanos' Essays. This article, "Shylock: The Quality of Justice," points out that "It is not Jew who offends so grievously, nor Christian who understands so poorly; it is man who is inadequate to his eternal destiny."

The third section of "The Bridge" deals with Surveys, and it is in this section that an absorbing account of the Final case in which two Jewish children were left by their parents for safe-keeping with a Catholic woman just before the parents were taken to be destroyed in the Nazi gas chambers, is explored.

The Sussmans' collaboration on Marc Chagall is to be found early in the book, under the section called studies. It is the only illustrated essay in the volume, containing as it does, four beautiful full-page reproductions of some of the famous and soul-stirring Chagall crucifixion paintings. Mrs. Irving Sussman is well-known as Cornelia Jessey, the novelist—and Mr. Irving Sussman as a member of Palm Springs High School faculty, teacher of junior and senior English.

This is a book particularly to be recommended for Christmas reading, for "The Bridge" speaks of and to Christians and Jews of today. The Reporter Magazine describing it as one of the most significant books published this season, says: "Jews and Christians are linked in an unbreakable fraternity. This very unusual collection of essays is written by people striving to serve that fraternity."

MR. AND MRS. Keith McLeod of Los Angeles spent the weekend in Palm Springs coming here especially for the cocktail party Mrs. Virginia McLaughlin gave at her home honoring Mrs. Gwyn Cobb Marcy of Buffalo, New York. The remainder of the evening was spent at Sam Taylor's Tennis Club where all of the guests enjoyed dinner and dancing.

St. Theresa Pageant in Rehearsal

Mothers of approximately 250 children, all students of St. Theresa Catholic school are busy preparing or purchasing costumes to be used by their off-springs in the "Magic Nutcracker," a Christmas fantasy.

The children range in age from the kindergarten to the ninth grade. Thirty of the students who are to take part have been trained for this musical for almost two years. They are to be in a specially selected chorus. Among the dances, are the Ginger Bread Boys, the Toy Soldiers, the Flute and many others. The musical fantasy will take place in the Plaza Theater December 20, 21.

Last December a Christmas pageant played to standing room only in the American Legion Hall during a one night performance. This is the first time the fantasy will be shown two nights in order to take care of the many who have indicated a desire to attend.

The entire show is under the direction of the Sisters of the Immaculate Heart of St. Theresa here in Palm Springs.

Bonesteels Back at El Mirador

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bonesteel have returned to Palm Springs and are at El Mirador hotel for a six weeks' stay this time with their youngest son Don. Young Bonesteel has entered the Palm Springs high school to continue his studies with certain class assignments from his school in Chicago in order not to fall behind his classmates in the Windy City when he returns.

The Bonesteels traveled by automobile from Chicago and reported that the trip was difficult and cold nearly all the way.

JACK HERMAN, well-known Vancouver business man, whose two sons Bud and Herman are hotel operators here in Palm Springs, is expected to arrive in Palm Springs within the next 24 hours. Both of his sons stated that their father is delighted to leave the ice, snow and dampness of the Northwest.

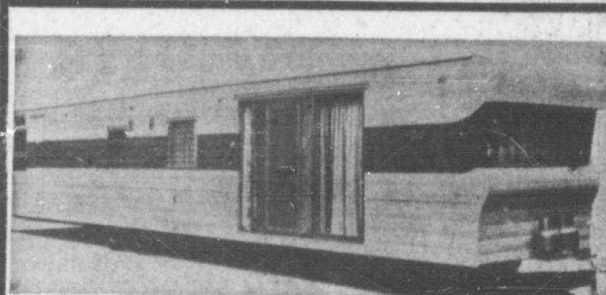

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS of Palm Valley School held the first Christmas Dance in the history of the school Saturday night in their recreation room. Thirty-five couples were in attendance, and enjoyed dancing to the music of Chuck Yates and his Orchestra, from the

'Las Posadas' Starts Friday at the Padua Hills Theatre

Visitors to the Padua Hills Theatre and dining room are made to feel that they are guests in a Mexican home during the nine days before Christmas.

Starting December 16 and continuing through Christmas Eve, at 7:30 each evening, except Monday, the Mexican Players enact the beautiful tradition of the "posadas" processional in the foyer as well as in the theatre production of their famous play "Las Posadas."

Players representing Joseph and Mary sing a lullaby as they move among the guests in the dining room to represent nine days of search for "posada" or shelter. Their entreaty is denied them in song by the other players who remain behind a curtain in the foyer. In the ninth request for lodgings, representing Christmas Eve, the wanderers are joyfully welcomed.

The Mexican Players then perform in the foyer the folk songs and dances which are favorites of the Mexican people during the holiday season. As a feature this year they perform "Villancico," a Christmas carol accompanied by a tambourine, which has been popular in Spain and Mexico since the 16th century.

The play "Las Posadas" includes other Mexican traditions such as building the "nacimientos"; a Shepherd's Play of The Nativity; breaking the "pinata"; and a colorful holiday fiesta.

The Mexican Players of the Padua Hills Theatre will stage their 24th annual production of "Las Posadas" until January 7.

How did your car place in this race... and why does it matter to you?

This was not only a race to pick the fastest car, but a race to see which has the biggest margin of roadability under deliberately grueling conditions.

In its demonstrated superiority, driven by experts under conditions and at speeds you will not be called upon to test, the 1956 Ford proved its enormous reserves of road performance and dependability. This, added to Ford's special Lifeguard Features, is your greatest assurance of safety next to your own good judgment, caution, and ability as a driver.

November 20 showed how much Ford superiority goes deeper than its good looks—to its mighty Y-8 Engine, to its K-Bar frame with five cross members, to its King-Size brakes, its Ball-Joint Front Suspension angled to pre-cushion road shocks, its true symmetrical steering linkage. That's why we state Ford's recent stock car victory puts a light on competitive performance in the engineering and construction features that matter to you.

Around Town

with Mildy Crawford

Around town... they are talking about... The fascinating Fontana of Rome style show... which is expected to be one of the most sensational ever shown here... Yesterday's breakfast ride... when Desert Riders celebrated their 25th anniversary... with a wassail bowl for the riders and a carrot bowl for the horses... That downtown Santa that looks like he stepped right out of "Twas the Night Before Christmas"... The truly wonderful way Palm Springs gave its heart's blood this week... for the Blood Bank... The Village is a wonderful place... to live or to visit...

Jerry and Stewart Hopps have taken the Donald Duncan house on Mountain View for a couple of months... and will be arriving in the next week or so... They are planning to host a big New Year's Eve party...

Oliver and Frankie Jaynes plan to leave next week... to spend the year-end holidays in Ft. Lauderdale, Florida... with their daughter Nancy and her husband, the John F. Coultons and their children Dale, David and Joyce... The Jaynes' other daughter Janet will fly down from Washington, D. C. to join her family for Christmas... Janet is on the staff of The Military Market, an Army Times publication...

The last of July... Waltah and Gretchen Clarke will be saying "aloha" to a tiny wahini... their first child... There's a special glow to Gretchen who is looking more beautiful than ever... and Waltah is the proudest man in the Village...

A card from Palm Beach from Lillian and John McClure... says they have been sightseeing... and find the Florida resort teeming with activity as their winter season opens... The McClures leave for Porto Rico on Sunday...

Arti Stebbins (Hollywood insurance broker) and his wife celebrated their 20th wedding anniversary Sunday evening at Howard Manor... Their good friends Bob and Andrea Howard could not be with them... due to Bob's recent operation... but had a cake baked especially for the occasion...

John Connors tells me that Stephen Burke is quite ill... The Burkes are in Yakima, Washington and have not been down this season...

Fans would have flipped if they had been at the Ranch Club on Sunday evening... when Bing Crosby hosted a dinner... which included Frank Sinatra and Phil Harris... The orchestra wandered over to the fireplace-side table... and Crosby and Harris were harmonizing... Bing (whose most frequent date is pretty little Kathy Grant) was alone... Sinatra was with Mildred Blakely... Phil Harris had his daughter Phyllis with him... and others in the party

Garden Club to Meet Saturday

Palm Springs Garden Club will meet Saturday at 1:30 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Shelley at 406 Via Las Palmas. Co-hostesses for the dessert tea will be Mrs. Tom Holland and Mrs. Horace Penderly.

Sunday Dinner at Racquet Club

Mrs. C. C. Hutchens was hostess at a Sunday night dinner at the Racquet Club. Her guests were: her mother, Mrs. Cordelia Cheno-weth of Idyllwild, who is visiting here, Marguerite Trousedale, Russ and Jane Wade, Tom and Virginia Curtis, and the Hutchens' son Jim. Mr. Hutchens is in Ardmore, Oklahoma on a business trip.

MRS. VIRGINIA McLaughlin recently spent a week in Phoenix, Arizona visiting with friends. While she was absent from her home her mother, Mrs. Mary Wilson of Hollywood came here to stay with the McLaughlin children. Mrs. Wilson returned to her home Monday after spending another week on the desert.

A REUNION of former Minnesotans took place at the home of Mrs. Bernardine Dimberger Saturday. Among the visitors Mr. and Mrs. Paul Domke of Palm Springs and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Iwinski of Compton.

were... Songwriter Jimmy Van Heusen with Bea Barron... TWA Exec Jim Nolan with Marilyn Blanchard... and Pete Pettito with Marie Krant... Sinatra left after the party for Hollywood... where he observed another birthday on Monday...

At Sunday brunch in El Mirador's Kiva Room... Jack and Helen Kenaston were with Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Jones of Long Beach... whose son Michael is still in Desert Hospital... Michael had a leg broken when he was hit by a racing car in the spectacular accident at the Sports Car races here...

A script conference... poolside at the Racquet Club Sunday... had Bill Holden (the star) and Mervyn LeRoy (who will direct and produce) talking about their new picture "Toward the Unknown"... With them were Nick Adams (the young actor who appeared in "Mr. Roberts" and "Picnic") and Paul Barron (composer and orchestra conductor)...

That same day... Tom Lipps of Two Bunch Palms (original builder and owner of Del Tah-quitz)... and his daughter Tommy who went to school here and is now in reservations with a San Francisco airline... dropped in to the Club to say "hello" to old friends...

Joyce and Noel Clarke and the Joe Rauches left this week... for a ten-day holiday in Mexico City and Acapulco...

Helen Kirk and Vicki Malouf were a hostess due Monday... when they entertained around 65 at luncheon at the Kirks' Beverly Hills home... The luncheon honored Vicki's niece Marlene Malouf... who will marry Jerry Hall on January 20...

Thunderbird women have started their Saturday sessions... meeting Saturday with Blanche Dulany... and the week before with Emma Gale... The women claim the Saturday sessions were dreamed up by the men... "to keep the women off the golf course"... Anyway, they play gin and bridge... and have fun...

Miss Chalfont to Be Bridesmaid

Miss Ruth Chalfont will be the maid of honor at the wedding of her former classmate at the University of Southern California, Miss Florence Albertson in Redlands Friday.

Vancouverites Expected Here

Vancouver, British Columbia residents are planning to meet en masse at the Vista del Sol next week. Among those who are expected to spend anywhere from two weeks to four months at this well known hostelry are: Mr. and Mrs. S. Dixon; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lamb, Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Groverman, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kagna, frequent winter visitors; and Mr. and Mrs. George Roadburg.

A special events day and evening is planned for all of these Canadian visitors by owner and manager Bud Hermann, a former Canadian.

HOW COME YOU HAVE TO PAY FOR IT? I THOUGHT THIS WAS A G/FT SHOP!

TODAY'S SPORT PARADE

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

NEW YORK (AP)—Samuel Jackson Snod will be 44 in May but the sweet-singer from the Virginia hills still is playing like gangbusters.

"The Slammer" proved that as he came back from one of his repeated vacations to win his sixth Miami Open Golf championship in a playoff with Tommy Bolt. And he shot a six under par 29 on the final nine for a 64 which put him in the playoff.

WHICH PROMPTED former PGA champion Vic Ghezzi to remark that the vanishing "old guard" isn't quite dead, just yet. "Old Sam can still play with the boys," Ghezzi grinned. "He's a cinch to be one of the favorites in any tournament you can name next year — unless it's the U. S. Open."

Ghezzi has his reasons, all the way around. "Match Sam with anybody, in any department, and he's got everything," big Vic explains. "Take the best driver and Sam is with him. Take the best iron player; still Sam. And take the best putter, and you've got Sam right there again."

SNEAD IS THE LAST fairly active player among the "old guard" which consisted of the now-retired Ben Hogan, Lloyd Mangrum, former PGA champion Chandler Harper and others of their "fortyish" ilk. And, while the youngsters really started to take over in the past year, Sam did his share.

The kids are coming, and you can't deny it if you peruse the records. Last year they took 18 tournaments with 25-year-old Gene Littler coping four, Mike Souchak taking three and others going to such as Dick Mayer, Shelley Mayfield, Billy Maxwell, Arnold Palmer and Dow Finsterwald.

Next in line came the "middle-guard," led by such "thirty-ish" ball-maulers as masters champion Cary Middlecoff, PGA king Doug Ford, Tommy Bolt and Ted Kroll.

LOOK DOWN the list of winners and for the first time in more than a decade you missed such names as Hogan and Mangrum. The veteran campaigners won five tournaments — and Slammin' Sam accounted for three of them.

"It just proves that when Snead steps up on that tee you can expect him to be poison," Ghezzi asserts, "except in the Open."

Sam's trouble there is mental. In his first start in the Open, in 1937, he fired a record total and then saw Ralph Guldahl come in to beat him. Two years later he blew it with that aching "eight."

Three other times he has come home second, once beaten in a play off by Lew Worsham and finishing runnerup to Middlecoff and Hogan.

"If he had won that first one, he might have won it a half dozen times," Ghezzi said.

WITH SUCH A BURDEN, nobody expects Sam to be able to do it as he heads down the hill. Not even Sam. But as he winds up 20 years of tournament competition you can't blame him for harboring a nagging hope.

"One of these days I'll quit trying to win it," he says. "Maybe then I'll walk off with it."

The way he's playing, it still could be, too!

Arnett Selected for Memorial Trophy

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Jon Arnett, All-America halfback from the University of Southern California, has been selected to receive the W. J. Voit Memorial Trophy as the outstanding college football player on the Pacific Coast. Arnett, who led the Pacific Coast Conference in scoring with 108 points, is the first junior to win the trophy.

Three strokes separate the four leaders in today's final round of the Sixth Annual Thunderbird Amateur Invitational's first section for golfers with handicaps of more than eight.

Bucky Harris shot a 63 yesterday to lead the field of 19 four-somes with a 36-hole total of 132.

Right behind Harris, tied with 133, are B. G. Gengenbach and Luka LaFacer.

A. F. McClellan is fourth with 134, and Alan Dale is two strokes behind McClellan for fifth place.

Hosts of the first section, Desi Arnaz, George Barrett and Harrison Fisher, will award prizes to the winners at a victory dinner tonight.

Tomorrow's play, the second section of the week-long tournament, will be 18 holes by Seniors. Seniors are 55 years or older, and are classified in four age groups. About 13 foursomes will compete. They will be hosted by Ralph Singer.

Starting Friday, and continuing through Saturday and Sunday, the 54-hole gross championship for players with an eight handicap or less will be played. Hosts for this event, featuring last year's champion Dr. Bud Taylor, California Amateur Champion, will be Dick Guelich, Bill Worthing and Paul Prom.

Three Strokes Separate Four at Thunderbird

Three strokes separate the four leaders in today's final round of the Sixth Annual Thunderbird Amateur Invitational's first section for golfers with handicaps of more than eight.

Bucky Harris shot a 63 yesterday to lead the field of 19 four-somes with a 36-hole total of 132.

Right behind Harris, tied with 133, are B. G. Gengenbach and Luka LaFacer.

A. F. McClellan is fourth with 134, and Alan Dale is two strokes behind McClellan for fifth place.

THE HORSE AMECHE NO. ONE BALL CARRIER OF YEAR, NFL REPORTS

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Alan The Horse Ameche, the No. 1 draft choice of the Baltimore Colts last Winter, was the No. 1 ball carrier of the National Football League this season, final statistics showed today.

Three veterans who previously announced their retirement also finished as leaders, with Otto Graham of the Cleveland Browns the top passer, Pete Pihos of the Philadelphia Eagles the leading pass receiver and Doak Walker of the Detroit Lions the leading scorer.

The Colts' workhorse, the leading carrier in the league from the first game on when he made his professional debut with 194 yards, finished with 961 for the season, an edge of 102 yards over harrmerin' Howie Ferguson of the Green Bay Packers.

FRED MORRISON of Cleveland was third with 824 and rookie Ron Waller of Los Angeles fourth with 716. Defending champion Joe Perry was fifth with 701.

Graham finished well in command in the trick ratings covering the passing title. Automatic Otto averaged 9.30 yards gained on every pass thrown. Ed Brown of the Bears was second with 7.97 yards, followed by Bobby Thomas of the Eagles, Y. A. Tittle of San Francisco and Eddie LeBaron of the Washington Redskins.

Power packed Duquesne and Marquette, posting impressive victories that boosted their perfect records to 4-0, cleared the decks today for a shot at national basketball champion San Francisco.

Duquesne, winner of last week's Steel Bowl tournament and led by All-America Sihugo Green, displayed its vaunted defensive power Tuesday night in holding down St. Francis of Pennsylvania, 63-48, at Pittsburgh.

Marquette, though forced to get along without Terry Rand, its high scoring six-nine center, for most of the game, downed dangerous Miami of Ohio, 71-65, at Milwaukee.

Marquette, ranked 13th nationally, is matched against San Francisco in the opening round of the DePaul tournament at Chicago Stadium Friday night. Duquesne, ranked No. 8; faces DePaul in the first round and is favored to reach the final round Saturday against the Marquette — San Francisco winner. Coaches Jack Nagle of Marquette and Donald Dudey of Duquesne admit they're worrying overtime about the champs and their All-America center, six-10 Bill Russell.

"We'll take a chance on Russell's shooting percentage if we can screen him away from the basket and let him shoot six or eight or 10 feet away," said Nagle.

"His offensive danger comes in knocking in his teammates' shots. He is a good offensive ball player, but he's great on defense."

Breaking down the columns, Graham and Bobby Layne of Detroit had the best passing percentage with 53 per cent of completions. Jim Finks of Pittsburgh completed the most at 165 and had the highest yardage with 2,270. Tittle and Tobin Role of Green Bay threw the most touchdowns with 17.

PHOS, THE 1953 champion and co-holder of the title last year, caught 21 passes in the last two games to win the reception crown with 62. Billy Wilson of the 49ers, co-holder last year, was second with 53 and Billy Howton of Green Bay, Dave Middleton of Detroit, Tom Fears of Los Angeles and Lew Carpenter of Detroit tied for third with 44 each.

Walker's 96 points gave him a 12-point lead over Vic Janowicz of the Washington Redskins. It was the Doaker's first scoring title since 1950.

Norm Van Brocklin of the Rams won the punting title with a 44.6 yard average. Ollie Matson of the Chicago Cardinals led in punt returns, Al Carmichael of the Packers in kickoff returns, and Willard Sherman of the Rams had 11 interceptions.

NOTICE INVITING BIDS Notice is hereby given that the Board of Education of the Palm Springs Unified School District of Riverside County, California, will receive bids for the furnishing of certain items of classroom furniture, including pupil and teacher desks, chairs, tables, etc.

Each bid must be submitted on, and in strict conformity with the instructions on the printed bid form furnished by the Board of Education. Bids must be sealed and filed in the School District Administrative Office, 518 North Palm Canyon Drive, and will be publicly opened in the Board Room at the same address at 2 p.m., on Wednesday, December 28, 1955.

Each bid submitted must be accompanied by a certified check, cashier's check or bid bond for not less than 5% of the total amount of the bid. Such check or bond shall be given as a bid security and performance guarantee that the bidder will comply with the terms of his signed bid, and if the successful bidder fails to thus comply with the terms of his bid after acceptance thereof by the Board, his guarantee will be forfeited.

The Board reserves the right to be the sole judge of equality where substitutes are proposed and to reject any and all bids, or any part of a bid, and to waive any informality in the bids received.

WALLACE R. MUELDNER Superintendent, Palm Springs Unified School District, Palm Springs, California.

BOB BYERLY, Santa's helper in the Village, will finish his year's work of rebuilding damaged toys this week, just in time for them to be included in the Welfare and Friendly Aid's Christmas baskets for needy families. This is the eighth year that Byerly has undertaken this project — without pay.

Bob Byerly is Santa's Most Important Helper in Village

Santa Claus has many helpers the world over, but in Palm Springs his most important one is Bob Byerly.

Byerly, who lives at 414 South Marcus Road, is confined to a wheel chair most of the time, but that doesn't keep him from working long hours at the task he has set for himself — that of restoring old and broken toys for needy boys and girls.

These are the toys collected by the Welfare and Friendly Aid Society throughout the year, to be given to deserving families along with baskets of food at Christmas time. Without Byerly's untiring work, this project would be virtually impossible.

ALL DAY LONG, all through the year, Byerly hammers and paints and glues and mends the toys, patiently renovating them. This is the eighth year he has performed this service to the community.

He refuses to accept any pay for his work, for his is a labor of love. He says, with a twinkle in his eye that rivals old St. Nick himself, that he is more than repaid by the glow of happiness he has brought to the children.

Mr. and Mrs. Byerly have lived in Palm Springs for 19 years. Mrs. Byerly is a nurse at the Palm Springs Clinic, and in her spare time helps with the work in many ways. Not the least of these is to live surrounded by broken toys.

ALL AROUND HIS work room are parts of dolls, battered wheel toys, all kinds of broken toys which at first glance appear ready

Safeway Discontinues Slaughter Operations

Safeway Stores today announced its decision to discontinue operation of its two slaughtering plants in California and the contract feeding of cattle to supply the two plants. The announcement was made by Milton L. Selby, president.

"Safeway went in to the slaughtering business during World War II in order to make sure that its retail locations had an adequate supply of the grades and weights of meat demanded by its customers," said Selby. "The available supply of meat of the type needed by Safeway in California is now adequate and our slaughter operations and our contracts with others for feeding cattle are no longer necessary."

High School Highlights

High school highlights, submitted by the Journalism Class, is written today by John Simon.)

The Girls Athletic Association and Lettermen's Club will stage their annual Christmas dance on Saturday, December 17. The affair has long been one of the highlights of past school years. The dance is open to the public with admittance being 75 cents stag and $1.50 for couples. Dress is semi-formal and the festivities will begin at 8 and last until midnight.

Another holiday event is the annual Christmas program to be held in the high school gym on Friday, December 16, at 8 p.m. The program will feature numbers by Alex Hammond's a cappella choir, the new girls' glee club, and Gustave Patzner's high school orchestra.

VICTOR REYES, co-captain of the 1955 Indian football team, will be honored when he will be presented to the student body as the most valuable player of the season. Reyes played quarterback on offense and linebacker on defense.

The 1955 basketball team is off to a fast start. The Indians have won all three of their outings over Fontana, Brawley and the Riverside Poly J.V.'s. Charlie Jordan, rangy Indian center, has averaged 25 points a game and figures to be among the scoring leaders when league play begins. Jordan scored 201 points in 14 games last season and finished as the fourth highest scorer in the league.

LAST FRIDAY NIGHT the G. A. A. played the faculty in a basketball game which resulted in a 16-16 tie. The most valuable players on the G. A. A. team were the referees who by some strange coincidence happened to be members of that same organization. The faculty was handicapped by the fact that the game was played under girls' rules and several faculty members could not resist from dribbling more than the allotted two bounces.

According to the referees a faculty member could not touch the ball unless some careless G. A. A. player happened to throw the ball to them. The only way the faculty was able to gain a tie was through the scoreboard operator's consideration. Realizing that the faculty would never live it down if the

G. A. A. won, he gave the faculty four points on the last basket they scored. It was all in fun although it looked at times as though a mass riot might break out.

THE PALM SPRING Indian cross-country track team journeyed to Coachella last Friday. In the only race, a mile and a quarter affair, Gene Prieto of the Indians tied with Gilbert Luna from Coachella for first place. Two Indians, Ken Chapin finished fifth and Keny Reich finished eleventh.

The Palm Springs Scholarship Society journeyed to Hollywood last Thursday to witness "Cinerama Holiday." After the picture the scholars adjourned to the Farmer's Market for dinner. Upon returning home they attended a birthday party for 16-year-old Carol Clapp at the Clapp home.

Students May Qualify for Scholarship Plan

Palm Springs students of unusual ability who will graduate from high school in 1956 will have the opportunity to participate in a national competition for 200 four-year college scholarships offered by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, an independent, non-profit organization which receives its funds from foundations and industrial concerns. Dr. Wallace Mueller, superintendent, announced today.

Complete information is available at Dr. Mueller's office in Frances Stevens school.

City Hall Color

MILWAUKEE—The Milwaukee Common Council, which recently banned colored sidewalks because it would make the city look like a "rainbow," has four pink squares of its own in the sidewalk at the front of the city hall.

Toastmasters to Have Theme of Christmas

In keeping with the festive season, the entire program of the Toastmasters Club Thursday will be centered around Christmas. They will meet at the Ranch Club at 6:45 p.m., and all members are asked to attend, and bring a guest.

Eric Walker will be in charge of the main program, and will have as his speakers Warner Moon, Paul Payne, John Johnson, Carl Mayfield, Bert Wade and Robert Ralph.

The Table Topics will be conducted by Joe DeFrancis, and Fred Nitchy will head the evaluation panel. Dr. Winkler will act the chief grammarian and Paul Clark will be in charge of timing the speakers.

A well balanced-Christmas program has been arranged and a cordial invitation is extended to anyone who would care to come to the meeting. This is a dinner meeting so those planning to attend are asked to phone the president, Clarence Brechlin at 2333 for reservations.

Medical Hazard

WATERBURY, Conn.—Mrs. Sarah Hubbard felt worse after leaving a doctor's office, but it wasn't the fault of the physician. While getting up from a waiting room chair to see the doctor, Mrs. Sarah Hubbard slipped and broke her ankle.

Michigan's name is derived from an Indian word, variously spelled Mishigama, Michigama and Michiguma; means "great water."
